Book now to see for yourself why Derren is one of the country's most revered live performers; a master of psychological illusion. This unique combination of talents makes for a stunning theatrical evening in the hands of a master performer. There's nothing like it anywhere else in the world.

Derren and his director Andy Nyman are still putting the new show together but Derren said today:

“Like previous shows, I will absolutely push myself to the limit. The challenge is to create new material that shocks, delights and defies explanation. The audience will be taken for a theatrical roller-coaster ride, and I hope it’s an experience that they will never forget.”

Editors notes:

On stage as well as on TV, Derren Brown is in a class of his own, exhilarating audiences with his unique brand of intelligent and theatrical entertainment. In 2006, "Something Wicked This Way Comes" won the Olivier Award in the Best Entertainment category. His "Mind Control", "Trick of the Mind" and "Trick or Treat" TV programmes have garnered rave reviews and award nominations. In 2003, Derren won The Silver Rose in the Variety Category at Rose d'Or, Montreux. His specials have provoked much controversy and acclaim and further consolidated his reputation as a performer prepared to constantly challenge and break boundaries. He has also received much praise for his best-selling book, "Tricks of the Mind", which has currently sold over 330,000 copies. He has also enjoyed considerable success in America, when his show "Derren Brown: Mind Control", was screened on NBC's Sci-Fi Channel. 2009 sees a new book "Derren Brown Portraits", a collection of his painted caricatures of famous faces and two new series for Channel 4.
